

TWENTY FIVE LUSK WINE LIST

This wine list is designed to represent the diversity and universal character of the wine world today as well as to complement the meticulously composed and innovative food of our Executive Chef, Matthew Dolan. The selected wines are a balanced compilation of classic and esoteric wine regions. Terroir specificity along with the purity of the flavors, value, and the food friendliness were the main factors motivating my selections. The wines are categorized according to grape variety and they intend to reflect their characteristic aromatic profile of the fruit, the expression of their geographic origins, and the specific wine making techniques. With this list I am pleased to share my passion as well as the knowledge of the perpetually changing world of wine.

RIESLING/GRÜNER VELTLINER/WHITE PINOTS/GEWÜRZTRAMINER

Germany, Austria, and the French region of Alsace produce some of the most exciting and arguably most versatile white wines offering a wide range of flavors and levels of sweetness. Grüner Veltiner is San Francisco's beloved native Austrian grape. There are some great examples of these grapes in the New World as well.

RED RHONE GRAPES

Usually spicy, bold, savage flavors of garrigue (provençal field herbs) white/black pepper, raspberries, and iron are flavors which characterize red Rhone grapes. Syrah, Grenache, Mourvedre are the most popular in winemaking and adaptable to grow. Some of my favorite wines come from the areas of Northern Rhone in France.

THE BORDEAUX FIVE, OLD WORLD

BORDEAUX

The French region of Bordeaux is naturally divided by the Gironde river into Left Bank and Right Bank. In the former with gravelly soil Cabernet Sauvignon dominates. Merlot performs better on clay and sand soil and that is the preferred grape in the Right Bank offering softer type of wines.

SHERRY

Misunderstood and largely underappreciated sherry is one of the most versatile wines with wide range of haunting aromas. El Maestro Sierra is my favorite producer.

el maestro sierra fino	11 glass 29 bottle
el maestro sierra 15 year old oloroso	12 glass 34 bottle
el maestro sierra amantillado 12 year old	17 glass 48 bottle
el maestro sierra pedro ximenez	11 glass 30 bottle
